In this workshop, participants will create their own treasure bead using the empty flameworked hollows handmade by glass artist Lisa Walsh. Participants pick a hollow of the size and color they want, then customize their bead with the filling, caps and dangles of their choice. The beads can be made into miniature ornaments, pendants, or fan pulls and come with a presentation case suitable for gift giving. A large array of fillings will be provided, but participants are also invited to bring their own tiny treasures from home. More information about this can be found at the website: Abednegocreations.com

No torch or flame is involved for this workshop, but participants will see a short presentation of how the glass hollow is made.

No previous experience of any kind is necessary to participate in this fun event!

The $30 workshop fee secures your seat and includes all supplies and instruction. Additional treasure beads can be made for $25 each.
